

Leadership

The people behind the promise.

Nitin Mudaliar

Nitin Mudaliar has spent fifteen years in the rooms where Pune's real estate decisions get made — as advisor, broker, and trusted guide to hundreds of buyers across the city's premium and luxury markets.

That proximity to the market gave him something most developers don't have: a precise understanding of where buyers feel let down, where design falls short of promise, and where genuine opportunity gets overlooked.

In 2011, he founded Otis Realty on two principles that the market had convinced him mattered above all else — trust and transparency. Fifteen years later, those principles remain unchanged. The ambition has simply grown.

Chandni Rav — Partner & Chief Business Officer

Most people who work in real estate understand property. Chandni Rav understands people — how they decide, what they trust, and what makes them act. That distinction is what she brings to Oltraya.

As Partner and Chief Business Officer, Chandni leads brand strategy, business development, investor relations, and client experience at Oltraya.

Ricky Yeole — Partner & Chief Operating Officer

Ricky Yeole knows what buyers actually do — not what developers assume they do. Over more than a decade operating across every layer of Pune's real estate ecosystem, he has sat on both sides of the table often enough to understand where transactions break down, where trust is lost, and where the right positioning changes the outcome entirely.

As Partner and Chief Operating Officer, Ricky leads the full arc of execution at Oltraya — from how each project reaches the right buyer to how the final possession is delivered. The standard he holds is the one the brand has promised. He makes sure those two things are always the same.
